HARRY K.

THEATER

The little town of Sherbrooke, Quebec, is stirred as never before by Harry K. Thaw's arrest and detention after his escape from Matteawan Asylum. Crowds flock to see him and cheer him. An excellent picture of Thaw is also shown by Pathe's Weekly at the Globe theatre every night this week. Another feature in the program at the Globe is the Grecian Vase, a story of a poor sculptor en-raptured by the beauty of a woman on a Grecian vase, dreams that she leads him to a land of beauty where nymphs and satyrs dance to the in-toxiating pipes of Pan. A special chorus of dancers from Gertrude Hoffman's company was engaged to give classified interpretation to the scenes of Giulio's vision in the picture. "When Women Go on the Warpath" is a special feature comedy in two parts with Sidney Drew as Josiah Pitts, the deacon. This is sure some fun. This program will be at the Globe theatre all this week for 10 cents, children 5 cents.—Adv.

ABOLISHING OF
DRILL AT THE
HIGH SCHOOL

Military training has been abolished at the Ogden High school. The decision to do away with drill from the curriculum was reached by Supt.
J. M. Mills and Principal Henry Petersen of the High school this morning, following a vote by students and discovery that but one half of the boys were willing to take the drill.
According to Supt. Mills, the board has to fight public sentiment every year since the inauguration of training, although there are many who are strongly for military drill.

Since the opening of school, the question of drill has been discussed by the board of education and Principal Henry Petersen. Finally the board left the decision in the hands of the superintendent and principal.
The superintendent, but went to the school this morning at the request of the principal and the matter was thrashed out during a meeting of the boys.

Even the proposition of free transportation for the battalion to San Francisco during the Panama exposition failed to create any noticeable sentiment on the part of the prospective cadets. When it came to a test, the youngsters voted in favor of the drill but when it came to register for the training there was but slight response. The boys had been willing to have the other fellow enjoy it but there were not ready to take the drill themselves.

"The board, Principal Petersen and myself deeply regret taking the step but it was made after the situation had been viewed in every light," said Supt. Mills today. "The question of uniforms was troublesome.
Parents in many instances objected to buying uniforms although the uniforms were more economical than other suits. Besides there was a sentiment in the city against military training, and some boys would not attend school because they believed it compulsory to take drill.
Even though we made the subject elective last year, boys went home with mistaken ideas and said they were compelled to drill."

"We believe military drill to be of great physical and moral value.
The boys are taught to be straight morally and physically. Uniformed boys hesitate before entering places of questionable nature. We felt though that, if the Ogden school was losing pupils for whom the state pays tuition, and if a number of parents objected, that the drill should be abolished."

Captain W. E. Kneass will continue his regular duties as a member of the faculty in charge of the study hall. The captain had charge of the cadets but the drill work was in addition to his regular duties in the school room.

JURY TRIAL IN
A LIQUOR
CASE

The attorney representing H. J.
Peterson, charged with illegally selling intoxicants, asked for a jury trial in Judge W. H. Redner's court this morning and requested that the venue be given to the sheriff or other disinterested party. He said he understood the police were at odds with the defendant. The case was set for tomorrow morning.

Claud Nord, charged with disturbing the peace of employees in the Hess bakery, was found guilty and sentenced to 10 days. According to testimony, he had gone to the bakery for his wages and created a disturbance because the proprietor was asleep. Five alleged vagrants were given suspended sentences. They were arrested back of a Twenty-fifth street saloon where they had been "rushing the can."

LOCAL PEOPLE
SEE THE BIG
DAM SITE

Yesterday afternoon Judge James A. Howell visited the Cobble creek dam site, returning greatly enthused.
He states that he had not fully appreciated the importance of the enterprise until he saw the work that has been done and considered the plans for the future.
It is the judge's opinion that the Cobble Creek dam site is the most favorable to be found in any part of the country and the bedrock formation is ideal for a large dam. Speaking of the work that is being done the judge says it is progressing rapidly. He says everybody works at the dam site, William Glasman even insisting on putting visitors to work.
This morning Sheriff DeVine, Deputy Sheriff Richey, Deputy County Clerk John V. Bluth and W. T. Stillwell visited the site and they were more than pleased with the undertaking.

FORTY HUSKIES
READY FOR
FOOTBALL

Coach Alonzo Romner of the Ogden high school is having no difficulty in getting out a large squad of football candidates. Last night about 40 huskies reported, but as the Athletic association has not been busy this year, only 32 could be supplied with grimy football armor. Those without suits bravely went with the others to the field and assimilated training while watching the others.

The coach has not begun criminate work thus far. The time is being spent in tackle practice, diving on the ball, blocking runners and such preliminary work which is really the foundation of football. It is probable that no scrimmage will be indulged in until the middle of next week. The boys are working steadily and are recovering from all preliminary sore-ness.

Quarterback Ruby has reported and now there are 11 men of the first squad of last year in the school. In addition "Wado" Tribe of the team of two years ago has returned to finish school and he will probably be numbered among the stars. Two new men, Adams of Layton and Sprague are expected to be live members.
Romney plans to train three back-fields so that he will never be harassed by injuries to players.
There are nearly 300 boys in the high school.
